MecSoft Corporation announces "RhinoCAM 500"

Irvine, CA.--September 9, 2002 -- MecSoft Corporation, has entered into a strategic partnership with Robert McNeel and Associates, makers of Rhinocerosâ (Rhino), to offer "RhinoCAMä" (VisualMill 4.0 and Rhino3D 2.0) for $1495.00 when purchased together, for the first 500 customers. Current Rhino users can purchase VisualMill 4.0 separately for $995.00 while this offer lasts. This offer will be restricted to English products only.

Greg Haywood of MecSoft states: "Our relationship with McNeel and Associates goes all the way back to the beginnings of both our products. They are not only great business partners but also great people. We are extremely happy with our relationship and our combined ability to offer such value to the marketplace. This RhinoCAMä package will transform the way people think about CAD/CAM. The combination of Rhino's proven CAD capabilities as a front-end and the powerful features in VisualMill 4.0 will provide outstanding price performance value to the customer. RhinoCAMä offers ninety percent of the functionality of older legacy systems for the sales tax you would pay on their software. MecSoft's philosophy is simple - "create a great product at a great price and the customers will come".

"MecSoft's new VisualMill 4.0 is a good value for Rhino users. The marriage of the two for $1,495.00 is an exceptional value" says Scott Davidson of Robert McNeel & Associates.

This package is available through your local authorized Rhino or VisualMill dealer or at www.mecsoft.com. This powerful combination of Rhino and VisualMill, bring industrial strength CAD/CAM to a price point that everyone can afford.
